

Anne Condie,
Head of Regional Teams
Scottish Childminding Association

Abstract:

Community Childminding

This is a childminding service which supports families in crisis or provides early intervention as a preventative measure. Any such service which offers a resource to identified parents/carers whose circumstances may preclude them from engaging with the community.

SCMA have had several years experience of running community childminding services. Building on that experience this year sees the launch of an inclusive and comprehensive service to better support and meet the needs of childminders who are/wish to become community childminders.